The Oregon Fire Service Honor Guard hosted the first Oregon Fallen Fire Fighters Memorial ceremony on September 9, 2006. The symbolic black granite wall displays the names of Oregon Fire Fighters who have died in the line of duty. The first recorded line of duty death, etched upon the wall is from 1881.

This is an annual event held the third Thursday each September at the Oregon Public Safety Academy, where the Memorial is located.

The Oregon Fire Service Honor Guard values your support in keeping the mission on the Memorial alive. The program and services are made possible through the generosity and commitment of people like you. The Honor Guard continues to fulfill its vision in completing and maintaining the Oregon Fallen Fire Fighters Memorial which honors those who are a significant part of Oregon's Fire Service history.

The first phase of construction included a polished granite wall adorned with a bronze Maltese Cross which lists the names of the fallen heroes and the inscription that personifies unselfish courage, "Heroism comes from the calling to help somebody, not the need to be somebody." The black granite path inscribed "In the Line of Duty" extends along the wall and is illuminated at night.

We continue to raise funds in continuing the annual Oregon Fallen Fire Fighters Memorial ceremony to add future fallen heroes' names to the wall, and the ongoing maintenance required to preserve the Memorial.

Your donation and support will also assist to assist in the completion of the second phase of the Memorial which includes a fountain with pond and a statue that captures the spirit of the Memorial
